

BADCo Presents.....

Snow White and the Severn Dwarves

The Barnwood Amateur Dramatic Company, otherwise known as BADCo, is the drama section of the British Energy Sports & Social Club. The cast and crew are all local people who either work at British Energy or have friends and family there. Most years we produce a family pantomime in February or March, staged in the British Energy Lecture Theatre and all proceeds go to local charities.

Our next production is Snow White and The Severn Dwarves, written by BADCo member Neil Sanyal-Griffiths and Directed by Anna Eaton. As you would expect the show centres around the fate of Snow White abandoned in the woods to please her stepmother, the Evil Queen, but with one or two unexpected twists in this BADCo version of the old Fairy Tale. Come and see what sort of creatures roam the forest, find out whether the Prince is up to the job of saving Snow White and work out just how many Dwarves live in that tiny cottage (a clue: read the title carefully, it may not be the answer you expect!).
